LAW FIRM BIOGRAPHY

BARRETT JOHNSTON MARTIN & GARRISON, LLC concentrates a significant part of its practice on class action litigation, including cases involving violations of federal securities law, the Fair Labor Standards Act and state wage and hour laws, federal antitrust law, state consumer and antitrust law, ERISA, and employment discrimination. The firm has an active practice in corporate governance shareholder derivative litigation, enforcing corporate rights through the company's shareholders, and merger and acquisition related litigation involving breaches of fiduciary duty. The firm also devotes a significant part of its practice to Whistleblower/False Claims litigation involving claims brought by whistleblowers under the Qui Tam Provisions of the False Claims Act.

The firm's office is located in Nashville, Tennessee and is active in major class action litigation pending in federal and state courts throughout Tennessee and across the country, as well as litigation before the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

The firm's reputation for excellence has been recognized on repeated occasions by various courts throughout the country which have appointed the firm to leadership positions in complex class and derivative actions including multi-district or consolidated litigations. See, e.g., Horns ex rel. v. Raines, 227 F.R.D. 1, 3-4 (D.D.C. 2005) (appointing firm co-lead counsel in Fannie Mae shareholder derivative litigation and noting the experience and success of the firm in this type litigation); Pirelli Armstrong Tire Corp. Retiree Medical Benefits Trust, et al. v. Stumpf, et al., No. C 11-2369, slip op., at *3 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 3, 2011) (appointing the firm co-lead counsel in Wells Fargo shareholder derivative action involving robo-signing and other related mortgage abuses and holding that "Barrett Johnston . . . has considerable experience litigating complex class and shareholder actions, and the firm has been appointed co-lead counsel in such cases. The Court finds that [Barrett Johnston Martin & Garrison, LLC] will fairly and adequately represent Wells Fargo shareholders, and do so in an economic and efficient fashion"); In re Am. Serv. Group, Inc., 3:06-00323, 2006 WL 2503648, at *4 (M.D. Tenn. Aug. 29, 2006) (“Here, MARTA’s counsel is well qualified and experienced to represent the class in this action and the Court approves MARTA’s choice of counsel [including Barrett Johnston Martin & Garrison, LLC as Liaison Counsel.]”). See also In re Cardinal Health, Inc. ERISA Litig., 225 F.R.D. 552, 558 (S.D. Ohio 2005) (“The Salinas Plaintiffs’ counsel [Barrett Johnston Martin & Garrison, LLC] ha[s] [an] extremely impressive resume[.]. Barrett Johnston . . . has extensive securities class action experience and substantial labor union based ERISA experience.”).

In certifying complex cases as class actions, Courts have noted the qualifications and experience of the firm in this area. See, e.g., In re Broadwing, Inc. ERISA Litig., 252 F.R.D. 369, 375 (S.D. Ohio 2006) (“In the instant case, both Plaintiffs’ and Defendants’ counsel are experienced practitioners in the field of complex ERISA, class action, employment and securities litigation.”); Craft v. Vanderbilt, 174 F.R.D. 396, 406 (M.D. Tenn. 1996); In re Direct Gen. Corp., 3:05-0077, 2006 WL 2265472, at *4 (M.D. Tenn. Aug. 8, 2006) (Holding that “Plaintiffs will adequately represent the proposed class . . . through qualified counsel who will zealously and competently represent the interests of the proposed class.”); Morton v. Vanderbilt Univ., 3:13-01012, 2014 WL 4657473, at *13 (M.D. Tenn. Sept. 17, 2014) (“[T]he Court finds that the appointment of Barrett Johnston as class counsel is warranted under Rule 23(g)(1) . . .”).

As shown below, Barrett Johnston Martin & Garrison, LLC has taken a major role in numerous actions on behalf of defrauded investors and consumers for violations of federal securities laws, wage and hour laws, including the FLSA, ERISA, state consumer and antitrust laws as well as breaches of fiduciary duty in shareholder derivative litigation and merger and acquisition litigation in state and federal courts across the country.

FOUNDING PARTNER

The firm was founded by George E. Barrett (1927-2014), who, beginning in the late 1950s, gained a reputation for his courageous advocacy on behalf of those facing legal difficulties because of their involvement in the civil rights movement. His practice spanned over 50 years and many areas of law, but the common theme was always his advocacy on behalf of “underdogs” and “the underserved.”

Mr. Barrett became a champion of the underdog, representing labor unions, anti-war demonstrators and teachers. In the 1960s, Mr. Barrett helped register African Americans to vote and served as president of a statewide human rights council that fought to end segregation. In 1968, his drive for justice led him to file one of his biggest cases, Geier v. Tennessee, which resulted in the desegregation of Tennessee’s state universities and was litigated for over 30 years.

Over the years, Mr. Barrett won a number of high-profile cases. One such case saved Gaile Owens from death row in 2011. Owens was imprisoned for 25 years for arranging the execution of her husband, after suffering years of his abuse. As a result of his efforts, the Tennessee Board of Probation and Parole voted to free the former death row inmate after Mr. Barrett personally authored a written appeal to the governor. In another landmark case brought against his law school alma mater, Mr. Barrett served as counsel for a certified class of women who were intentionally exposed to radioactive iron without their consent while receiving prenatal care at Vanderbilt University hospital in the 1940s. The cases resulted in a settlement which included $10.3 million and a formal apology from Vanderbilt University.

Mr. Barrett was also responsible for other class action settlements of historical and national significance including some of the largest securities class action settlements in Tennessee and Sixth Circuit history. In addition to his extensive civil rights and labor law practice, Mr. Barrett's practice also included labor, government law, labor arbitration, labor mediation, collective bargaining, civil liberties, constitutional law, municipal law, civil litigation and class action litigation. In honor of his accomplishments, Vanderbilt University Law School named its Social Justice Program after Mr. Barrett and the San Diego School of Law created the George E. Barrett Professorship in Law and Finance.

SETTLEMENTS

As exemplified by the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Geier v. Sundquist, 372 F.3d 784 (6th Cir. 2004), the firm has been responsible for class action settlements of historical and national significance. In Geier, a civil rights action in which the firm served as original and lead counsel for plaintiffs and successfully litigated for over thirty-six years, and which resulted in the dismantling of a dual system of education in the state of Tennessee and resulted in benefits totaling in excess of $320 million, the Sixth Circuit, in noting the "exceptional nature and national significance of the case" stated:

[T]he magnitude of this case is formidable in numerous respects. The legal principles advanced by the Geier Plaintiffs were path breaking and of great social import. It was in this case that this Court first held that there was an affirmative duty to remove all vestiges of state-imposed segregation in institutions of public higher education, just as there was such an obligation at lower educational levels. Plaintiffs have litigated -- successfully -- for thirty-six years against continuous state opposition and contrary judicial precedents outside this Circuit, and they have secured injunctive relief -- valued at approximately $320 million -- in programs affecting all public institutions of higher education.

Id. at 795. The court concluded by noting that “the tenacity of the attorneys and broad remedies obtained . . . render this a ‘rare’ and ‘exceptional’” case. Id. The Geier case served as a model for other similar cases brought in the South. Id.

In approving the final settlement and dismissal of the historical Geier litigation, Senior Judge Thomas Wiseman, Jr. stated:

Finally, having had the judicial responsibility for this case for the entire 28 years of my tenure as a judge, the Court takes this opportunity to record officially in the Order of Dismissal and in the permanent records of the Middle District of Tennessee some personal observations and laudatory remarks.

The progress of this case, particularly in recent years, presents a remarkable example of the societal benefit that can occur when lawyers of vision and imagination, motivated by a passion to not only represent a client but to achieve a just result, apply their energy and intellect to a problem. This Court and this case have been blessed with outstanding lawyers in the finest traditions of the profession. Mr. George Barrett recognized the problem and brought it to his inimitable creativity and perseverance . . . Good lawyers make a judge’s job easy.

Geier v. Bredesen, 453 F. Supp. 2d 1017, 1018 (M.D. Tenn. 2006).

The firm has also been responsible for other significant settlements of class action cases including, at the time, the two largest securities class action settlements in Tennessee and Sixth Circuit history. One of those settlements, In re Dollar General Corp. Securities Litigation, Case No. 3:01-0388 (M.D. Tenn.) (Wiseman, J.), which settled for $172.5 million, was at the time the largest securities class action settlement in Sixth Circuit history and at the time represented the tenth largest settlement of a securities class action since the passage of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act in 1995. The other settlement, In re Prison Realty Securities Litigation, Civ. No. 3-99-0452 (M.D. Tenn.) (Campbell, J.), which settled for $107 million, was at the time the second largest securities class action settlement in Sixth Circuit history and at the time represented the sixteenth largest settlement of a securities class action since the passage of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act in 1995.

Additionally, in Morse v. McWhorter et al., Civ. No. 3-97-0370 (M.D. Tenn.) (Higgins, J.), which settled for $49.5 million, the firm served as Liaison Counsel on Plaintiffs' Executive Committee in an action brought against Columbia/HCA and its officers and directors in an action alleging violations of federal securities laws. Commenting on the qualifications of counsel and the excellent results achieved, Senior Judge Thomas A. Higgins stated:

Counsel's excellent qualifications and experience are well documented in the record . . . and they have litigated this difficult case tenaciously throughout the nearly seven years it has been pending. Despite having their claims dismissed early on, they have preserved and brought about an enormous cash settlement for the beneficiaries of the fund. There is no doubt that $ 49.5 million is an excellent result in this case for beneficiaries who would likely have received nothing were it not for the determination and hard work of counsel.

Morse v. McWhorter et al., Civ. No. 3-97-0370, slip op. at 8 (M.D. Tenn. March 12, 2004).

In In re Global Crossing Ltd. Securities & ERISA Litigation, MDL Docket No. 1472 (S.D.N.Y.) (Lynch, J), which settled for approximately $79 million, the firm served as a member of the lead counsel committee in a class action brought against Global Crossing, Ltd. and its officers and directors for violations of ERISA.

Another example of the innovation and imagination of the firm is the lawsuit of United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum & Plastic Workers of America, et al. v. Pirelli Armstrong Tire Corporation, et al., in 1994 (Civ. No. 3-94-0573)(M.D. Tenn.)(Nixon, J.). The firm served as Co-Counsel for the retired employees of Pirelli Armstrong Tire Corporation resulting in a trial and finding a violation of ERISA. While the case was on appeal, a settlement was reached resulting in the creation of a VEBA in excess of $70 million for the members of the Plaintiffs' class. This litigation, one of the first of its type, resulted from the change in F.A.S.B. No. 106, and was one of the earliest such cases in the country. The acceptance of these types of VEBAs is now common place as a result of the law made in the Pirelli case. The negotiation of VEBAs by both Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and the automobile industry in recent years highlights the significance and the importance of this pioneer case.

The firm represented Lead Plaintiff and institutional investor Pirelli Armstrong Tire Corporation Retiree Medical Benefits Trust in Pirelli Armstrong Tire Corporation Retiree Medical Benefits Trust v. Hanover Compressor Company, et al., Civil Action No. H-02-0410 (S.D. Tex.) (Gilmore, J.), a securities class action in which the court approved a settlement of $85 million which included significant and unprecedented corporate governance changes including the first time a company agreed to rotate its outside auditor as part of a resolution of a shareholder class action.

These settlements have produced monetary recovery and/or benefits for consumers, investors and citizens across the country totaling over a billion dollars in recoveries and including significant corporate governance changes and enhancements. These settlements include:

WAGE AND HOUR

• Carroll v. Guardian Home Care Holdings, Inc. Civ. No. 3:14-cv-01722 (M.D. Tenn.) (Haynes, J.). The firm was appointed Class Counsel in this lawsuit in which an RN challenged her employer's refusal to pay overtime. The RN and others like her were paid a "fee per visit" and were not paid any extra overtime when they worked over 40 hours per week. Because the employer also paid the workers by the hour for meetings and for other tasks, the lawsuit alleged that the employer was in violation of the Fair

Labor Standards Act. The case resulted in a settlement of $3 million.

Plaintiff alleged the Defendant's pay policy for shift time rather than time worked, paired with institutional procedures that resulted in corrections officers routinely working overtime violated the overtime pay provision of the FLSA and state law including unjust enrichment. Recently, the Plaintiff's unjust enrichment claim went to trial. After a week long trial in which members of the firm vigorously fought for the rights of the corrections officers, the jury returned a verdict in Plaintiff's favor finding the Defendant had been unjustly enriched for nearly nine years at the expense of Plaintiff and her fellow corrections officers.

• Johnson et al v. Koch Foods, LLC, No. 2:07-cv-51 (E.D. Tenn.). The firm served as lead counsel in FLSA collective action brought by poultry processing workers who were paid in accordance with the employer's "line time" policy. The workers alleged that, as a result of this practice, they were not paid for donning and doffing work activities in violation of the FLSA. The firm tried this case to a jury in January 2010. After a weeklong trial, the jury returned a verdict finding that Koch Foods' "line time" policy violated the FLSA and that such violations were willful.

• In re Tyson Foods, Inc. Fair Labor Standards Act Litigation, ___ F. Supp. 2d ___, 2010 WL 935595 (M.D. Ga. Mar. 16, 2010). The firm serves as co-counsel counsel in two of the eight "test cases" litigated before the MDL Court. These cases have been brought by poultry workers who claim that they are not paid for donning and doffing activities in violation of the FLSA.

• Shabazz v. Asurion Insurance Service and Asurion Corporation, No. 3:07-0653 (M.D. Tenn.). The firm served as lead counsel in a collective action brought on behalf of call center workers who alleged that they were not paid for pre-shift and post-shift work. The firm successfully litigated a motion for conditional class certification on behalf of the workers. Id. at 2008 WL 1730318 (M.D. Tenn. Apr. 10, 2008). Eventually, the workers reached a settlement with their employers that was approved by the Court.

DISCRIMINATION

• Geier v. Sundquist, et al., Civ. No. 5077 (M.D. Tenn.) (Wiseman, J.). The firm served as Lead Counsel for the original plaintiffs in a class action lawsuit initiated in 1968 challenging the dual system of public higher education in Tennessee. The case was the oldest and longest lasting class action case on the docket in the Middle District of Tennessee and served as a model for other similar cases brought in the South. The case resulted in significant changes in public higher education throughout the State of Tennessee including the dismantling of a dual system of education and resulted in benefits totaling in excess of $320 million. The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals discussed at length the great social impact of the case and that the results achieved by Plaintiffs' counsel were "rare" and "exceptional." See Geier v. Sundquist, 372 F.3d 784, 796 (6th Cir. 2004).

• Hutcheson v. Tennessee Valley Authority, et al., Civ. No. 3-84-0201 (E.D. Tenn.) (Jarvis, J.). The firm served as Plaintiff's counsel for approximately 2000 female employees in a class action suit brought under Title VII alleging wage discrimination. The case resulted in a settlement of approximately $5 million.

ERISA

• In re Global Crossing Ltd. Securities & ERISA Litigation, MDL Docket No. 1472 (S.D.N.Y.) (Lynch, J.). The firm served as a member of the lead counsel committee in a class action brought against Global Crossing, Ltd. and its officers and directors. This action was brought on behalf of all participants and beneficiaries of the Global Crossing Employees' Retirement Savings Plan, a 401(k) plan operated and administered by Global Crossing Ltd., and alleges breaches of fiduciary duties and violations of ERISA disclosure requirements. The suit alleged that Global Crossing failed to disclose to plan participants adequate information about the true financial position of the company and even encouraged their employees to invest or maintain investments in company stock while placing restrictions on the employees' ability to sell their company stock. The case resulted in a settlement valued at approximately $79 million.

• In re Qwest Savings and Investment Plan Erisa Litigation, Case No. 02-RB-464 (PAC) (D. Colo.) (Blackburn, J.). The firm served as Plaintiffs' Counsel in a class action brought against Qwest Communications International and its officers and directors. This action was brought on behalf of all participants and beneficiaries of the Qwest Savings and Investment Plan, a 401(k) plan operated and established by Qwest, and alleges breach of fiduciary duty and violations of ERISA disclosure requirements. The suit alleged that plan restrictions deprived Plaintiffs of control over their plan assets, forcing Plaintiffs to concentrate their assets in company stock. Moreover, Plaintiffs could not exercise independent control over their plan assets due to improper influences and/or concealed materials and non-public facts regarding certain investments. The case resulted in a settlement recovering millions of dollars and protects the Plan's right to recover in the parallel securities action.
